We, the students of Franklin High School,

dedicate the 1957 Almanac to our beautiful

State of Oregon. Rich in natural resources, beauty, and tradition, the Beaver State is acclaimed by millions of visitors as the gem of the Northwest. We are proud of our precious democratic heritage. May Oregon's glorious pioneering spirit reign forever!

Land of the empire builders, land of the golden west;

As the shadow of industry—with its mighty hydroelectricinstallations—moves across the Columbia, these pictureesque Indian fishing grounds at Celilo Falls will become a memory.

Conquered and held by freemen, fairest and best.

This view of Oregon's coast line is not press agent "fiction," but a perfect blend of earth, sky and ocean.

Onward and upward ever,

Door ajar, windows boarded, this deserted farmhouse stands silhoutted against a lonely horizon in central Oregon.

forward and on, and on;

Originating high in Oregon's Cascade Mountains, the Warm Springs River meanders lazily to its rendezvous with the turbulent Deschutes through the rolling hills of the Warm Springs Reservation.

Hail to thee, land of heroes,

One of the world's wonders, majestic Crater Lake is known the world over for its breath-taking beauty.

my Oregon.

FAREWELL MISS RUBY McKAY

Relaxing in well-earned retirement, Miss McKay is now touring part sof South America, Africa, and Europe. Always an educator, her letters to the students have included short but valuable history lessons about the places she is visiting. Although we regret losing such a wonderful person, we are happy for her and she will always be remembered.

WELCOME MR. MIKE RUMPAKIS

Mr. Rumpakis's friendly smile has made him a welcome newcomer to Franklin. Graduating from the University of Portland, he is well-qualified to fulfill Miss McKay's vacancy as senior history teacher. Having served in the Army Corp of Engineers as an instructor for troupe information and education, Mr. Rumpakis has traveled widely in both the United States and Europe. We wish him all success and happiness as a member of the faculty.

Senior Class Activities

Under the leadership of its capable officers, the senior class of 1957 has enjoyed a happy year. A full slate of activities included the successful Freshie Frolic, class parties, Senior Administration Day, Senior Fun Day, the senior movie, and the ever-wonderful Senior Prom. Cooperation has been the keynote of its success: class members have demonstrated remarkable willingness to volunteer their services to every undertaking! Because of their initiative and ambition, we are certain that many seniors will be remembered and heard from long after graduation. Congratulations and a million good wishes to the class of '57!

...capable influence of the Spring council, the Sophomore Class experienced many successful activities. With the ...ble assistance of President Dick Williams, Vice President, Roger Hammer; Delores Erdman, Secretary; Carolyn Jacobs, ...urer, and Judy Cassiato as Historian, the Sophomore Class was very well represented.

MRS. EMMA MOORE and MR. JAMES WOLFE

Entering into their second year of counseling, the class of "59", Mrs. Emma Moore and Mr. James Wolfe were regarded by their students as real friends to whom they could bring their troubles. In short, these counselors have earned the gratitude and respect of the entire sophomore class.

CLASS

Under the capable leadership of Freshman Class President Steve Corno, the new Quakers set up standards for their cla to follow in future years at Franklin. Working toward the goal of making this the finest class to enter Franklin were: Steve Corn president; Karen Achison, vice-president; Christine Miller, secretary; Steve Jones, treasurer; and Janice Jensen, historian.

OF 1960

Freshman Class President, led the class through a busy spring term. Proving to be an exceptionally competent year officers were: Mark Faran, president; Alan Bridges, vice-president; Gayle Lucke, secretary; Sondra Peterson Sondra Brust, historian.

MRS. RYDMAN and MR. MURRAY

Freshman counselors, Mrs. Sharon Rydman and Mr. Francis Murray, provided the necessary spark and inspiration to get the newest members of Quakerville fully organized—ready to play their part in helping Franklin establish new records in the future.

Capable fall sergeant-at-arms for the freshman class were: Bonnie Ferguson, Nancy Palmer, Sondra Peterson, Lynn Conger, Georgia Smith, Alan Bridges, Paul Denman, James Wright, Ton Aase, and Frank Itami.

Beyond a doubt, Franklin students are some of the busiest people in Portland. No matter where one goes FHS students may be seen helping out in worthwhil community programs, participating in spcial school activities, or working toward high scholastic goals. In short, Quakers do everything and anything—from studying in the library to producing and directing dramatic plays.

There is one thing that sets Franklin off from many other high school people—they are optimistic and cheerful! When someone asks them to do an errand, the deed is well done and with a friendly smile.

Franklin is a school of Champions! When you visit the school and see the students, it isn't hard to believe this statement. Quakerville is an extremely busy place, with approximately 12 different departments, 100 faculty members and 2400 students. In short, it is a city in its own right—and growing larger every year.

FRESHIE FROLIC

This year Queen Judy Cheeseman and King Duane Stogsdill, two good-looking and popular Freshmen, reigned over the annual Freshie Frolic with its theme from "The King and I." Royalty was conferred by Lorcy Hoyt and Jim Curry, king and queen of the class of "57."

After the crowning ceremonies, the freshmen were treated to an oriental interpretation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," presented by the senior class. The humorous narration was done by two Siamese cats, Mary Ann Gaines and Judy Quinlin, while Uncle Tom was portrayed by Earl Muramatsu, and of course, the ever loving Little Eva was Bill McElhaney, not to forget Little Topsy, known around the school as Jerry Jarboe. Earl May was cast as the enjoyable Little Eliza, whose action almost caused a riot with the classes. This ever popular Freshie-Senior occasion was climaxed by a successful dance held the following evening.

A.F.M. WEEK

The annual A. F. M. Week, an occasion happily anticipated by the entire student body, was highlighted by an amusing talent assembly presented by Willamette University. A chorus line of flappers, portraying the Roaring Twenties, opened the show; and two talented students kept the audience in constant laughter with their hilarious interpretation of Romeo and Juliet.

Also entertained by an excellent orchestra and several other acts, the A. F. M. assembly proved to be a "traditional" success. Climaxing the week was the Masquerade Ball, with Lorcy Hoyt reigning as A. F. M. Sweetheart.

Our thanks to the Affiliated Franklin Men who, under the leadership of Wayne Christopherson, worked and planned to make this a memorable event.

Long awaited by all Franklin students, the annual Christmas assembly was the last highlight of a wonderful year. Not only does it symbolize the ending of one year at Franklin, but it is an opportunity for every student to thank God for all the happy and joyful occurences of the passing year.

Our orchestra puts us in the Christmas spirit.

SWEETHEART SWIRL

Sweetheart's Swirl, Delta Beta Phi's annual valentine ball, was one of the most beautiful formal dances of the year. Candidates for king and queen were members from each of Franklin's clubs. Reigning over the dance as "sweethearts" were Sue Dahl and Jerry Jarboe. It was held in Pythian Hall, with the proceeds going to charity.

Junior Prom

"Midnight in Manhattan," was the theme of the biggest event to date for the class of 1958 —the Junior Prom. The gym was transformed into a park containing benches, shrubs, trees, a silver moon, plus a silhouette of Manhattan, and a walkable bridge. Ruling over this romantic occasion was the court: Sue Holman, Janice Nakata, Rhoda Jarvis, Bev Judge, Penny Lindsay, Marilyn Roberts, Barbara Sauer, Greg Bergland, Tim Gallagher, John Hedman, Jerry Matioda, Dick Soles, George Staenke, and Mike Sullivan. Couples danced to the band of Freddie Keller.

TWELVE ANGRY PEOPLE presented on November 31 and December 1, was a tense, dramatic production with touches of comedy displaying professional acting under the superb direction of Mr. James Shaffer. Taking place in a court-room the plot centered around reaching a verdict concerning hte innocense of a teen-age boy.

With the life of a boy at stake the twelve jurors are making one of the biggest decisions of their life. Is there a reasonable doubt? They entered the jury room after six days of trial with the thought it was an open and shut case, all except for one man. After hours of emotional debate, the jurors all agree that there is a reasonable doubt.

THE MIKADO

For the first time in Franklin's history, the entire Quatasia cast and crew was composed of "A" Choir members. Under the direction of Mr. John C. Peery, THE MIKADO, by Gilbert and Sullivan, was presented on May 3 and 4. The story evolves around the Emperor of Japan, the Mikado, who tries to rule his country with absolute authority. Because of this, he chooses a wife for his son, Nanki-Poo, then runs away, disguising himself as a wondering minstrel. The Mikado then begins to search for his son.

BAND

Our band's main objective this year not only was to improve the over-all quality of its organization but, particularly to clothe members in uniforms of which the school can be proud.

To accomplish this goal, they held a "Band Aid Week," to push the sale of band stickers. A talent assembly and a dance climaxed "Band Week."

A student body paper drive, in addition to the "Dance Band Revue," provided another source of revenue for the uniform fund.

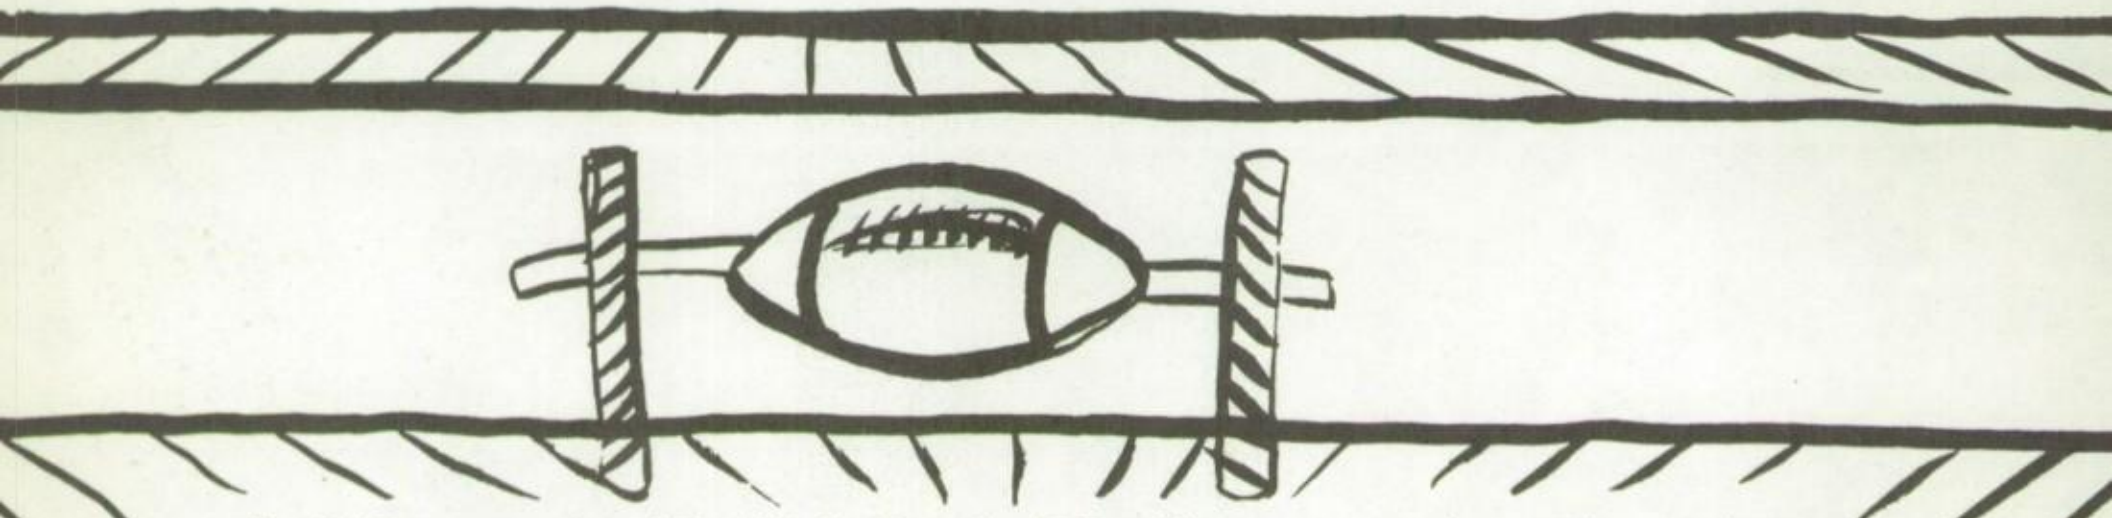
Head coach, Will Stephens, and assistant, Jim Ward, demonstrate some of their football strategy in preparing for one of the Quaker's most crucial encounters



The Gridiron campaign of Franklin Quakers for 1956 while not spectacular on the popular scale of games won and games lost, was interesting and hard fought. Each player who stuck it out to the end of season knows that under the marvelous leadership of Head Coach Will Stephans and his very capable Assistant Jim Ward, there was developed a group of men who are excellent representatives of "the School of Champions," both on and off the field. To paraphrase the words of Coach Stephans, it is quite impossible to score if you don't have the football. This seemed to be the theme for the entire season. The Quakers, carrying the role of underdogs on their shoulders throughout the whole of the season, stunned grid fans all over the state, by trouncing arch rival Grant by a score of 12-7. At the end of the season, Franklin placed star halfback, Glen Hutton, on the all-city second team and tackle Tim Gallagher on the honorable mention all-city list. We are justly proud of the men that represented Benjamin Franklin High School so superbly.

Cards Outrun Benjies 31 - 21

Lincoln's Cardinals, via the long run methtod staved off a last quarter rally by Will Stephans' aroused Quakers to pull out a 31-21 win over Franklin. Paul Goddard and Joe Shank rambled for 61 and 44 yards respectively in the opening stanza to stake Bob Signer's warriors to a 13-0 lead. Half-time showed the Cards ahead 19-0. Third quarter action continued to favor the Lincolnites as Goddard scored again. The extra point was again missed as the Cards managed only one extra point all evening. The final stanza saw the Quaker war machine arise to score three touchdowns. Doil Lane threw a touchdown pass of 17 yards into the Cards' end zone for six counters early in the final period. Halfback Glen Hutton slashed 13 yards for another T. D. only minutes later. Lane climaxed the game by scoring the final six tallies with another pass, this time for 27 yards.

Cols Nudge F.H.S. 20 - 12

Franklin's valiant band of Quakers dropped a 20 to 12 decision to the Colonials of Washington. After a scoreless first period, Washington marched 60 yards to score their first touchdown. Just before half time the Colonials scored a safety to lead 8-0. Franklin stopped Coach Doug Vickery's warriors cold in the third stanza, as Curt Crandall smashed to pay dirt from 12 yards out. Although Crandall scored again in the fourth quarter on a pass play, the Washingtonians salted away their triumph with two scoring drives in the last period.

Engineers Humble Franks 32 - 20

Benson's lightning fast Engineers made it three straight wins in League competition, whipping the Quakers 32-20, on the Franklin turf. Again, team defense told the story in this free-scoring contest.

Franklin was then briefly in the first quarter on 7 yard touchdown play by halfback Glen Hutton.

In the second quarter, Ralph Harper's Benson grid machine ripped through the faultering Quaker defense for 26 counters, and coasted the rest of the game to register a 12 point victory.

One bright spot in the fray was the fact that no other team had been able to score as many points against the mighty Techmen as the Quakers had, excepting Marshfield, number one team in the state, who had beaten Benson in a pre-season tilt for their only setback of the season, at this point.

Indians Trip Quakers 27 - 13, after Scoreless First Quarter at Multnomah Stadium

Venturing into battle for the initial time during the 1956 P. I. L. season, the quakers of Franklin were dealt a 27-13 defeat at the hands of the Cleveland Indians, who were the pre-season favorites to capture the city league title.

Although a large portion of the game was played on even terms and Franklin's Glen Hutton and Jack Luhr's displayed masterful running ability against the Powell st. invaders the Quaker war machine gradually weakened under the Indian attack. Running from a tight "T" formation the Clevelandites mustered their offense for four touchdown drives.

During the first period, played in the annual Jamboree, which as usual was sparkling with color and pageantry, the highly spirited quakers were denied twice within the Indian 20 yard stripe.

Several Franks including Wayne Seim [59], smash into an unidentified North Salem Viking ball carrier in the Quakers preseason outing. The scrappy Viks outpointed the men of Will Stephans 20 to 12.

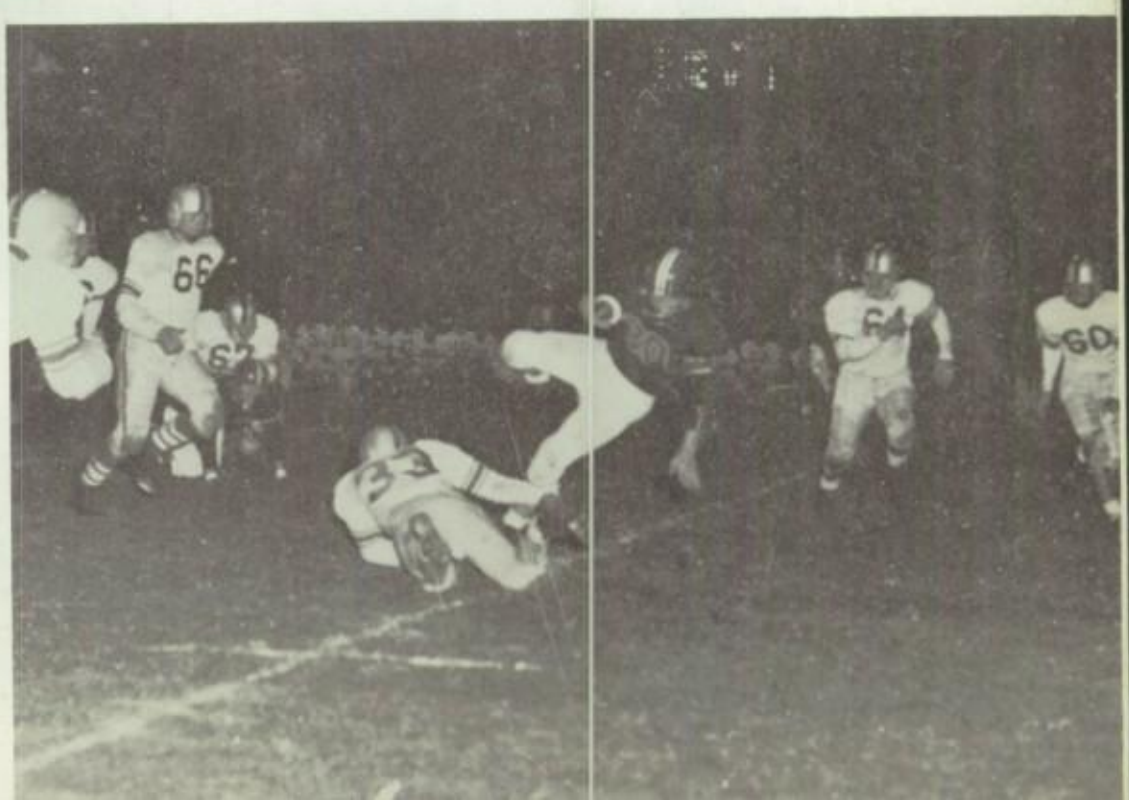
Scoring early in each of the second and fourth periods Will Stephens' determined band of warrior staved off a second half rally by arch rival Grant to post an impressive victory over the Generals. Jac Luhrs rambled for the Quakers first score early in the second stanza. Grant managed to come up with lone TD in the third quarter but Glenn Hutton, Franklin's all-city halfback came roaring back in the fina period to garner a second six tallies for the Division Street squad. Two other highlights of the contest in cluded two long break away runs in the first half. Early in the first quarter Hutton sprinted for fifty-si yards to go deep into General territory. Minutes later Curt Crandall burst through the Grant secondar for thirty-seven yards. Franklin showed for the first time this year its great Football potential. The Steph enmen, in flattening the supposedly invulnerable Generals, were outnumbered and outweighed and the proved that the will to win cancels out and overcomes mere statistical strength.

However, the triumph proved to be a costly one. Franklin lost four of its top football performers throug injuries sustained in this encounter. The four Quakers injured were: Jack Luhrs, Glen Hutton, Ron Je and Bob Gebo.

These two action shots typify the many action-packed moments which occurred during this year's Franklin grid iron campaign. To the left the first contest of the year with the North Salem Vikings and below you see action from the finale of the 1956 grid wards; the game with the Washington Colonials. These pictures show the beginning and the end of hopes, ambitions, dreams, and playing careers.



But the football season of 1956 now fades like a single thread into the huge tapestry of Franklin history. Quaker fans now look forward to the coming fall when another band of young men will carry the name of Franklin into another season of the grid sport. We wish them luck and we know that they will represent the school with honor.

QUAKER BASKETBALL

CO-CAPTAIN
JACK LUHRS

The Quakers of Franklin, lead by all-American high school center Bjarne Jensen, compiled a pre-season record of two wins, against four setbacks. Both triumphs were gained at the expense of the Springfield Millers. The Krausemen lost Jim Kuhn and all-stater Ernie Spargur from last year's squad, and the loss was hard felt. However, the Franks played the top teams in the state of Oregon and they gained a lot of experience and knowledge in their pre-season encounters.

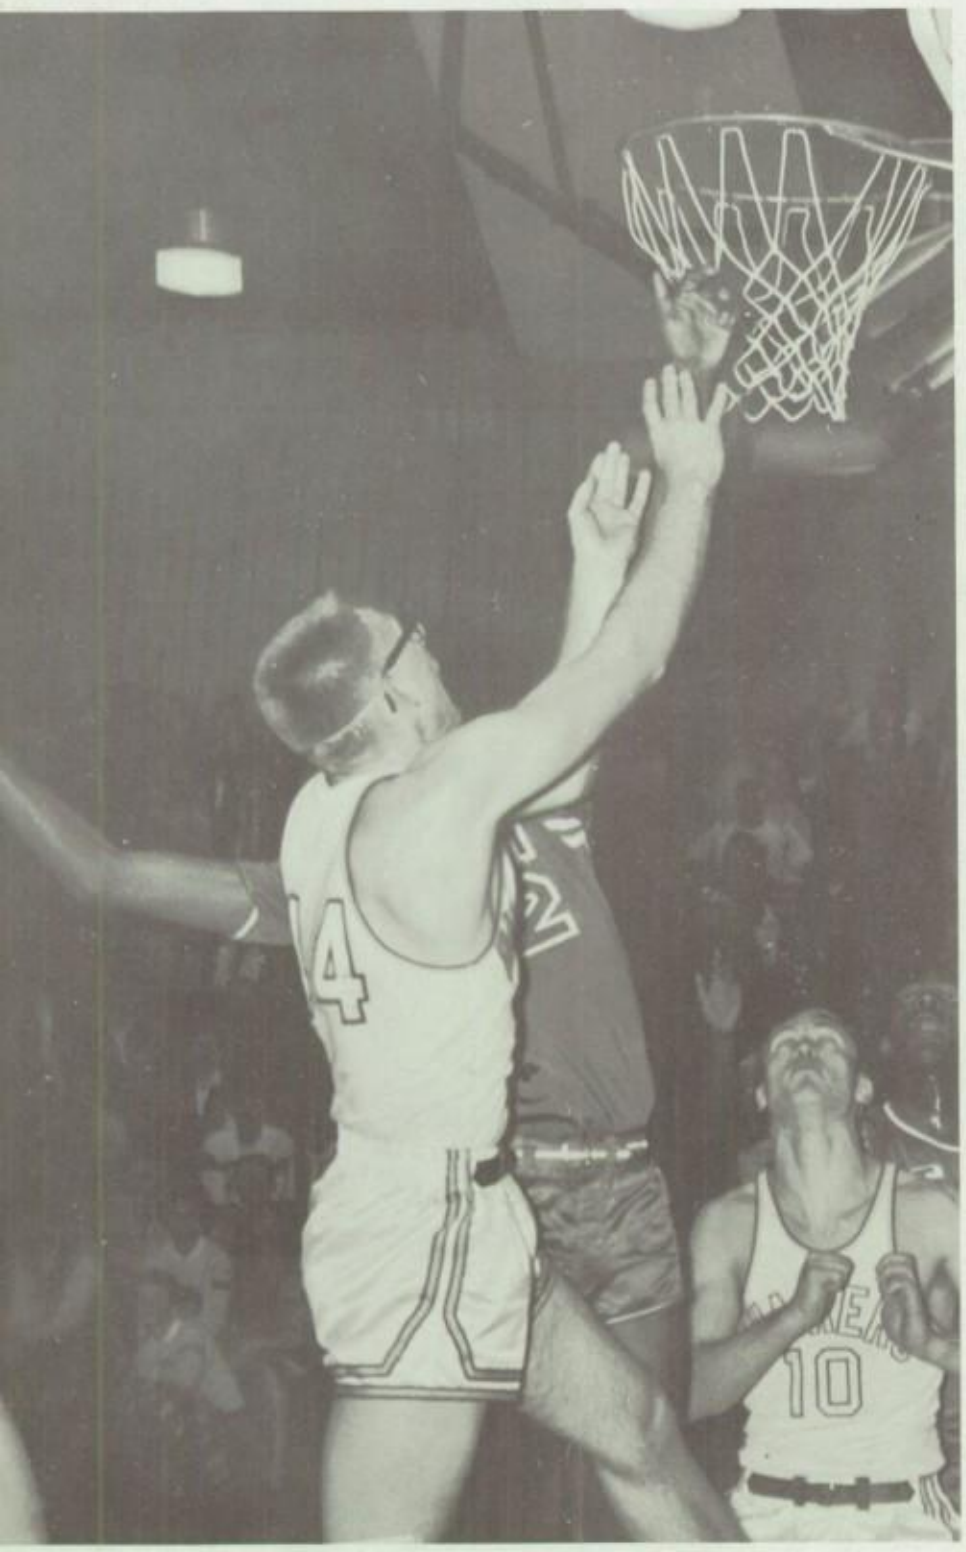
Probably the most exciting, thrilling, and heartbreaking set of court tests on the quaker schedule this season was the double encounter with the Generals of Grant. In the first contest both clubs were opening their P.I.L. season and they celebrated by going to it with a double overtime. Franklin drew a sure card filling 34 points from 6' 9" "B.J." Jensen in a losing cause. After ending the first overtime period in a 49-49 deadlock, the sudden death rule went into effect. Grant meant that the first team to make two points would win the contest. Grant substituted Bill Walkins who accomplished this with a pair of gift tosses shortly after the second overtime period got under way. The final score was Generals 51, Quakers 49.



The return engagement was equally hard fought. The Franks held a sturdy 13 point lead at half time over the Grant hoopsters. But in the third quarter the high school basketball career of one of the greatest high school players in the history of the sport came to an end. The big guy, "B.J." Jensen left the court with a knee injury sustained earlier in the season. "B.J." stuffed 26 counters through the hoop before his departure, but his loss was felt both physically and morally; although a gallant effort was made to hold the lead the Quakers were finally stopped 58-53 at the final buzzer.

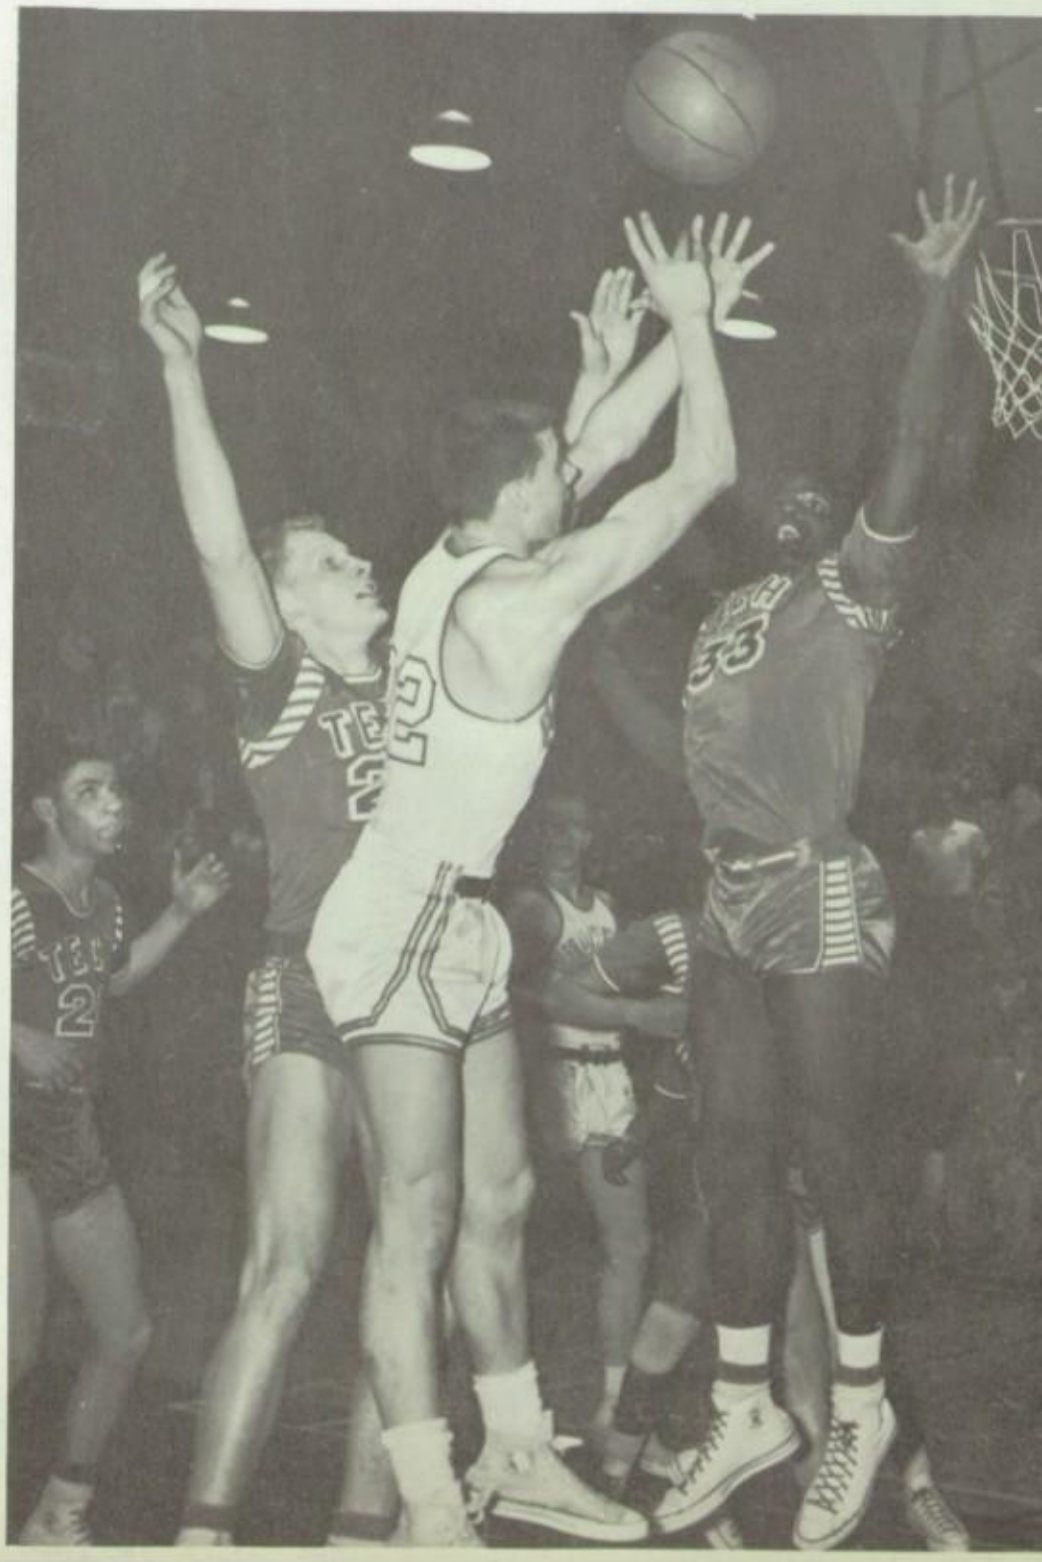
The techmen of Benson found the basketmen of Mel Krause easy prey in P.I.L. action as they bumped the Quakers in both of their meetings on the court. The athletes from the polytechnic school rambled past Franklin by a score of ?? to ?? and in the second half of league play the Bensonites came visiting on the Franks court and administered a second victory ? to ??.



Mel Krause's band of able basketeers KOed the Indians from Cleveland and then took it on the chin in a pair of games which were both decided by a margin of three points. With Bjarne Jensen and Larry Watkins parting the twine for 20 counters a piece, the Indians notched a 61-58 verdict over the Powell Street crew. However, in the second battle the Indians reversed the three point decision and gained a 64-61 victory over the Quaker squad. Senior guard Glen Hutton found the mark for 18 tallies but lady luck failed to smile on the Quaker cause as the Franks lost a real heartbreaker.

Franklin cake troops garnered the decisive triumph in P.I.L. action at the expense of the league's newest member, the Wodrow Wilson Trojans. The first game was played on the Wilson hardwoods and the Tropans put up a stirring battle before bowing by a 50-41 count. All stater, "B.J." Jensen lead all scorers with 18 points. Wilson came, visiting for the second meeting of the two clubs, and Franklin played the role of an ungracious host by rudely stomping out a crushing 55-40 judgment.

Through the diligent and perfectionistic coaching of Jim Ward, Franklin's Knights of the mat steamrolled their way through their second straight undefeated year. The statistical records show that since the grapling sport was reintroduced to the PIL schools two years ago, the Quakers as a team have never lost a match. After mashing decisively all league opponents, the wrestling wonders traveled to the State Tournament which was held this year in Corvallis. Although inexperienced as compared to other schools from around the state, two of Franklin's entries carried the school colors to third place finishes in State Tournament competition. Tim Gallagher and Ralph Wilson both took third place honors. Congratulations to all the men who participated in the mat sport and special kudos to Coach Jim Ward for a job well done.

QUAKERS DISPLAY STRONG TRACK STRENGTH IN BOTH CITY AND STATE RELAYS

The annual city relay meet at Lincoln this year saw the mighty cinderman from Franklin capture second place in three sparate events to pull into a 4th place finish against all-city competition. In addition to finishing second in the Shot Put Relay, the Distance Medley, and the Shuttle Hurdles, they managed a third place tie in the pole vault.

The fiercest competition in the history of he Hayward Relays greeted the Maroon and Gray cinder hopefuls of Coach Carl Kurath, as they arrived in Eugene for the annual track classic. Ten hard earned points were garnered by the Division streeters by placing 4th in both the Distance Medley and the Shuttle Hurdles and 5th in the Shot Put.

CINDERMEN VICTORIOUS

Franklin's varsity track squad made their initial start of the season a highly successful one as they defeated Benson and Cleveland in a tri-way relay meet held on the Quaker oval. The highlight of the meet in which Franklin placed 1st in five of the ten events, was the breaking of Franklin's modern varsity shotput record by Jim Larson. Big Jim gave the twelve pound shot a forty-six foot eleven inch ride as he shattered the Quaker mark. Final records showed Franklin totalling 39 points to Benson's 30 and Cleveland's 21.

Cawood takes the baton from Pete Stark and streaks out on the anchor of the two mile relay.

Each year students are given the opportunity to learn about different careers and various fields of employment in which they are interested. Through the work r. James Manning, vocational counselor, the career conference representatives,in conjunction with hundreds of business men and women from the Portland area, Franklin students a first-hand glimpse of the business world.

Representatives are selected from each social studies class and spend several weeks of hard work scheduling individual students into conferences of their choice. ort, they both plan and schedule the different conferences, as well as report to their classes on the progress of the career conferences.

Selected by members of the faculty, career conference chairmen are called upon to inform speakers about the meetings as well as introduce them at their respective ference sessions. These students were selected carefully, inasmuch as they represent us to business and industry and at the same time give our guests their first im- sion of F.H.S.

Upon opening the meeting and introducing the speaker, the conference chairman was responsible for the conduct and procedure of the entire conference period. s due largely to these people that our annual conferences remain so successful.
